

Young scientist,

SHARE WITH US WHAT YOU ARE DOING

we are glad to invite you to the third:

PhD-Day

on Wednesday, 16th May 2012 at Blocco Aule, Polo Scientifico Sesto Fiorentino

The purpose of the event is to bring together PhD students working on their PhD projects in various fields. The participants will show their research and receive comments from their colleagues from all the Departments and Institutes.

All PhD students of the Science Graduate School are invited to give a talk or present a poster (or both).

You will hear inspiring and sometimes unorthodox talks from PhD students in several areas, from theoretical physics to biology and beyond. You will be able to meet friends and make new ones, to share your knowledge and create new scientific collaborations.

Deadline is April 20th
